"f.re.e - Die Reise- und Freizeitmesse" is the largest tourism and leisure event held regularly since 1970 in the pearl city of Central Europe, the capital of the federal state of Bavaria. The expositions take place on a total area of 86 thousand square meters and cover the entire spectrum of the travel and leisure market. Statistics show that 93 percent of visitors to this event plan their travels on the basis of information obtained during the exhibition.

The site "f.re.e - Die Reise- und Freizeitmesse" also served as an excellent opportunity to present the new route "Uzbekistan Airways" in Munich to tourists from EU countries.

Recall that from the summer navigation "Uzbekistan Airways" will begin to operate regular flights on the route Tashkent - Munich - Tashkent with a frequency of 2 times a week on Wednesdays and Sundays.

According to statistics, the number of German tourists who visited Uzbekistan in 2019 increased almost four times compared to the previous period. The Uzbek side's introduction of visa-free regime for German citizens, as well as the growing popularity of tourist destination along the "Great Silk Road" have played a significant role in this.
